In re:

Chapter 11

SOLOMON DWEK,

Case No. 07-11757

Confirmed Debtor.

-----X

INTERVEST NATIONAL BANK'S LIMITED RESPONSE TO THE SECOND ONMIBUS OBJECTION RELATING TO ITS SECURED CLAIMS FILED AGAINST
DWEK WOODBRIDGE, SOLOMON DWEK AND DEWK ASSETS LLC

TO THE HONORABLE KATHRYN C. FERGUSEN, UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY JUDGE:

Intervest National Bank ("Intervest"), as and for its limited response to that portion of the Second Omnibus Objection relating to Intervest's secured claims (collectively, the "Intervest Claims"), respectfully states and alleges that:

1. While it is certainly understandable that the Trustee would like to expunge and eliminate duplicate claims for administrative purposes, Intervest is equally concerned that its surviving claims fully preserve all of Intervest's residual rights against the Debtors' respective estates. Intervest filed multiple claims against various entities because there were multiple obligors and guarantors of the underlying mortgage loans.

2. It appears that all remaining claims are not being administered in connection with the confirmed Chapter 11 case of Solomon Dwek under numbers 113-1 and 394-1. While Mr. Dwek was a guarantor of various mortgages, there is no explanation why the primary obligors are not likewise still held responsible for any claim not previously disposed of through Intervest's prior credit bids.

3. Technically, the claims filed by Intervest are not duplicative, but simply filed for like amounts against multiple obligors.

4. Intervest does not oppose limiting its claims so long as Intervest's rights in connection with residual mortgages are fully preserved on a post-confirmation basis.

WHEREFORE, Intervest respectfully prays for the relief consistent with the foregoing, and for such other relief as is just and proper.
